Palm Sunday of the Lord's Passion
April 5, 2009

[Christ Jesus] humbled himself,
becoming obedient to the point of death,
even death on a cross.

— Philippians 2:8

PASSION

The contrast between the processional reading in today's liturgy and the proclamation of the Passion is striking. We are given a glimpse of how profoundly the word of God is fulfilled in Jesus.

First he must be hailed as the Messiah, the One Who Is to Come. He must be acknowledged by all, though they do not know what they are saying. They think he is the promised king, a worldly king of the Jews who will free them from the Roman occupation. They do not yet understand, even the disciples, exactly where this triumphal procession is leading. In our lives, we too do not know where we are going. It is in faith that we can follow Christ wherever he may lead us, trusting that death is not the end, nor evil the victor.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

God so loved the world that He gave up everything, and came to live with us in person as Jesus. That loving led Him to a cross where He gave up His life for us. He took all selfishness and sin upon Himself because He so longs for us to be free. The cross has always been a sign of love and freedom. The cross and the sign of the cross have always marked us out as Catholics. We begin all our prayers with the sign of the cross. We celebrate the love of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit for us each time we make the sign of the cross. We never start a prayer or pass a church without acknowledging God's special love for each of us. When we enter this world, the priest seals us with the sign of the cross at baptism and again as we leave this world, the priests anoints us with the sign of the cross. We live under the shadow of the cross and as Christ gave us an example of love and sacrifice, so are we invited to love and sacrifice for God's Kingdom.

This Passion Sunday we read in the scriptures how the people welcomed Christ. The palms are a reminder to us that the people who welcomed Christ soon abandoned Him. Many people place the palms behind a crucifix at home and thus invite themselves to be loyal to their faith for Holy Week and beyond. The prominence of the crucifix in our Catholic homes and churches has always been part of our tradition, it reminds us that true love requires a price. The praying of the sign of the cross leads us into greater union with the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. May our respect and love of the cross lead us through this Holy Week and deepen our faith in the Easter mysteries.

An Old Story: The first tree said, "My dream is to become part of a beautiful palace where people will admire my beauty and the color of my wood." The second tree said, "My dream is to become part of a large sailing ship that journeys to all parts of the world." The third tree said, "I want to be the top part of a tower from which people can view the surrounding countryside." The trees grew to maturity and were cut down. The first tree did not become part of a palace, but did become part of a manger in Bethlehem. The second tree did not become part of a sailing vessel, but did become a fishing boat on the Sea of Galilee. The third tree did not become part of a tower, but did become part of a cross beam used for the crucifixion overlooking Jerusalem.

God Bless, Fr. Mike

Giggles: "I don't care to belong to a club that accepts people like me as members." Groucho Marx

"My husband," boasts a woman, "has a clear conscience." Her friend replies, "is it because it's unused?"

A priest and a cab driver arrive at St. Peter's gate together. To the priest's dismay he saw the cab driver got a better reward than he did. On questioning St. Peter, he got the following reply, "We pay depending on performance. When you preached - the people fell asleep, when he drove - people prayed like crazy."
