The eyes of all look hopefully to you,
and you give them their food in due season.

— Psalm 145:15

WEEKLY MIRACLE

This week marks the beginning of a kind of “liturgical detour.” We have been listening to Saint Mark’s Gospel during this liturgical year (Year B). Today we begin to hear a long section from John’s Gospel, starting with the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. This miracle story is a prelude to the Lord’s statements that we will begin hearing in a few weeks, where Jesus refers to himself as the “bread of life.” Each week we witness a miracle at Mass. We do not see a multiplication of loaves before us. What our eyes of faith allow us to see is the miracle of the transformation of common elements—bread and wine—into the Lord’s body and blood. Once we have received the Lord, the multiplication begins, for in the Eucharist we are strengthened to multiply our efforts to feed the poor, shelter the homeless, and bring comfort to the despairing.

DREAMS and VISIONS
(Pastoral Planning for Lifelong Faith Formation)

Setting the Church on fire!

In a great parish, the liturgy will not only be planned, but a team of leaders will also plan how to increase from mediocre to fantastic both (1) the level of participation and (2) the sense of welcome. In a great parish, the education process will not only use a good textbook, but over time, a team of leaders will plan ways to provide faith formation for all members, including adults, using the textbook as a springboard. In a great parish, not only will there be some people actively involved, but a team of leaders will plan ways to gradually engage more and more people in parish life, by lighting a fire in people’s hearts through encounters with Christ. In a great parish, not only will the collections pay the bills, but a team of leaders will gradually see collections rise to the point where the parish is able to afford more, not only for itself but also for the whole community. In a great parish, not only will children and young people celebrate the sacraments, or couples prepare to marry, but a team of leaders will plan how to place those preparing for sacraments in the context of the whole community, and the catechumenate will be the inspiration and empowerment behind it all! In a great parish, catechists and teachers will be in on-going formation, creating a spiritual community at the hearts of our schools and parishes.

And here’s the Core Work to be done: in a great parish , a team of leaders will gradually build up a process by which members have either (1) an initial encounter with Christ and his life-changing presence or (2) deeper communion with Him, through retreats and encounters. In a great parish, people will have a way through which that conversion can be sustained for life, through Faith Gatherings and other means. Little by little, a team of leaders will help move the parish forward, not merely to repeat this year what we did last, but also to lead in a consistent direction over a long period of time, building momentum gradually until one day, a few years from now, everyone will stop and look back and say to themselves, “Gosh, we’re really a great parish, aren’t we?”

Great parishes aren’t built by lurching off after the latest pastoral trends! They aren’t built in one or two or three years. They aren’t built by an entrepreneurial Pastor or a co-administrator. It takes a lot of effort and a team of modest yet driven leaders to shift from being good to being on the road to greatness, as Jim Collins reminds us in his book. There is no one plan, or one action, or one program to adopt that can make a parish great. But there is a direction, and that direction is set by the church itself.

I ‘ll be back with you,
Sister Anita

Giggles:

Teacher: George Washington not only chopped down his father’s cherry tree, but also admitted it. Now, Louie, do you know why his father didn’t punish him?

Louie: Because George still had the axe in his hand.

Teacher: Now, Simon, tell me frankly, do you say prayers before eating?

Simon: No sir, I don’t have to, my mom is a good cook.

HAVE YOU MET OUR DEDICATED TEACHERS?

My name is Jaime Anderson, I am the Director of the Preschool here at St. Joseph School. I have had the pleasure to work here for 14 years. I have a wonderful husband, and two beautiful daughters. I am very blessed to be a part of such a wonderful community! What I love most about my job, is that I have watched so many children grow up to become young adults, and still remember Preschool! I am so very lucky to be able to work where our Catholic community works together to share our faith. We often have families come to Preschool that are not Catholic, and decide that they want to know more about our faith, because what their children are learning. It is so awesome when they decide to get baptized and confirmed. I am truly lucky to be surrounded by a great community, and have the support of so many wonderful families! If you have any friends or neighbors with little ones, don't forget to spread the good news about St. Joseph Preschool.

INTERFAITH FOOD CLOSET

The Food Closet continues to see a lot of new families coming in for help. In June we served 900 families providing them with food for 24,408 meals. Thank you all for putting food donations in the oak containers at the church's entrances Here's the top 10 list of foods we need: canned fruit, peanut butter, boxed cereal, soup, meal in a can (examples chili, ravioli, or pork 'n beans) mac'n cheese, jelly, tuna, dry pasta sauce. Besides food donations the Food Closet always needs one dozen egg cartons, grocery bags with handles and travel toiletries.

Attention Gardeners: The Food Closet would love to receive some of your garden's bounty. Donations of fresh vegetables and fruit mean we can provide more variety and nutritious food to our clients. Garden donations can be dropped off at the Food Closet—Monday thru Friday between 9:00am and 2:30pm or call Trish Jensen at (530) 885-6658 to arrange a different time to drop off garden produce.
