First Sunday of Lent
March 1, 2009

Your ways, O LORD, make known to me;
teach me your paths.

— Psalm 25:4

PEOPLE OF THE COVENANT

If there is one word that stands out in today's readings, it is "covenant." God's faithfulness and goodness serve as examples to us of how to live. Genesis tells the story of Noah and of God's covenant not only with all people, but with all of nature. Never will the cleansing waters of the flood bring their destructive power to all the earth again. The sign, the reminder to both God and nature, is the rainbow in the heavens.

The psalm reminds us of this compassion of God, and begs God to remember us, not because of our goodness, but because of God's goodness and fidelity to the promise. God shows us how to be good, not by decree, but by example.

COMPARE YOURSELF

If you compare yourself to another, you may feel greater or less in doing so. But, when you compare yourself to what you could be with the grace of God . . . you will walk humbly through life.

“This above all: To thine own self be true
and it must follow, as night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.”
(Shakespeare)

THE MAN IN THE MIRROR

If you get what you want in your struggle for self,
And the world makes you king for a day,
Just go to the mirror and look at yourself,
And see what that man has to say.

You may be Jack Horner and Chisel A Plum
And think you’re a wonderful guy.
But the man in the glass thinks you’re only a bum,
If you can’t look him straight in the eye.

For it isn’t your Father, or Mother, or Brother
Who upon you their judgment will pass
The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life
Is the one staring back from the glass.

He’s the fellow to please, never mind all the rest,
For he’s with you right up to the end.
And you’ve passed your most difficult dangerous test,
If the man in the glass is your friend.

You may fool the world down the pathway of years,
And get pat’s on the back, as you pass,
But your final reward will be headache or tears,
If you’ve cheated the man in the glass.

God Bless, Fr. Mike

Giggles: In the 60’s a fellow was trying to skip the military draft and decided to claim faulty vision. The Doctor requested that he read the top line on the wall. “What wall?” asked the draftee. “My, your sight is terrible,” said the Doctor, and discharged him. To celebrate, the young man took his girlfriend to see the Rolling Stones in concert. To his embarrassment, he found the Doctor who had examined him sitting next to him. “Pardon me, Madam,” he said, “but does this train go to Boston?”

A rookie policeman (a Catholic) was asked the following question on his examination paper: “How would you go about dispersing a crowd?” He answered: “I would take up a collection. That does it every time for our parish priest at our parish hall meetings.”
