Sixth Sunday of Easter
May 5, 2013

May the peoples praise you, O God; may all the peoples praise you!

— Psalm 67:6

THE WORKINGS OF THE SPIRIT

Anyone who has seen a loved one off to a new adventure knows how difficult it is to rejoice, even when we are reasonably optimistic about their future. So, we can imagine how difficult it must have been for the disciples to rejoice in Jesus' announced departure. Today's Gospel is part of Jesus' Last Supper discourse, recorded only by John. Jesus announces shocking news. He must go to the Father, and they should rejoice in this. To help them through this, Jesus gives his disciples his gift of peace and promises an Advocate.

From our privileged position in history, we can see that all that Jesus promises comes to pass. The Church has grown and still exists on this earth because of the abiding Spirit. But living by the Spirit and entering into the peace of Christ is no small task. Jesus doesn't promise the apostles a rose garden. He is realistic about the costs of discipleship. And, mercifully, he is also clear about its rewards.

FIRST COMMUNION 2013

Congratulations to all our young people who received their First Holy Communion on Saturday, May 4th. A special thank you to all their parents and grandparents who led them to the Altar of God. Thank you to Sr. Anne Marie Miller, Charlotte Corkery, and our Catholic School Staff. Thank you to Judy Jones, Marissa Borba, Sharon Pendelton, Yanira Muniz, Gerri Nibbs, Teresa Oakes and all our teachers and volunteers at our parish Religious Education program.

This weekend is the one I like best in the year because 86 of our children received Holy Communion for the first time. First Communion day is a day of blessing forever. For some time now, the young people have been coming to the sanctuary with their arms crossed while their parents and older siblings have received Holy Communion. Many of them have extended their hands wondering if I would know that they hadn't made their First Communion yet . . . their twinkling eyes and smiles always give them away. Now, after long preparation and anticipation, their great day has arrived. Congratulations.

A SHED OR A CHURCH?

Many people drop off clothes for the poor inside the doors of our Church. Then others go through the clothes and the mess is terrible. Before funerals, weddings and Sunday Masses, we try and straighten out the House of God.

There is a better way to collect good used clothing for the homeless. Beginning next Sunday, light clothing and tennis shoes will be collected by the St. Vincent de Paul Society at their Sunday morning breakfast gathering for the homeless . . . Next to Frank Calabretta's Bail Bonds. A fuller list for the homeless clothing, shoes and toiletries will appear in our parish bulletin beginning next week.

Our Interfaith Food Closet collects non-perishable food the first Sunday of each month. Our Interfaith group will publish their program in our bulletin beginning next Sunday LET'S GATHER, NOT DUMP.

LA OBRA DEL ESPÍRITU

Cualquiera que haya visto partir a un ser amado hacia una nueva aventura sabe que es difícil alegrarse, aun cuando nos sintamos razonablemente optimistas sobre su futuro. De modo que podemos imaginar lo difícil que debió ser para los discípulos alegrarse cuando Jesús les anunció su partida. El Evangelio de hoy es parte del discurso durante la Última Cena y sólo Juan lo relata. Jesús hace un anuncio perturbador. Debe ir al Padre y ellos deben alegrarse. Para ayudarlos, Jesús les da su paz y les promete un Abogado o Paráclito.

Desde nuestra privilegiada posición en la historia, podemos ver que todo lo que Jesús promete, pasa. La Iglesia ha crecido y aún existe en este mundo gracias a la presencia del Espíritu. Pero vivir por el Espíritu y entrar en la paz de Cristo no es tarea fácil. Jesús no les promete a sus apóstoles un jardín de rosas. Él es realista sobre el costo de ser un discípulo. Y, misericordiosamente, también describe con gran claridad sus premios.

SOCIETY OF ST. VINCENT de PAUL (Continued)

At this first meeting on April 23, 1833, under the leadership of Frederic Ozanam, the seven members simply resolved to bring some assistance to homes of a few poor persons. Sister Rosalie, obtained the first addresses of these poor, and lent the necessary provisions.

It will be seen that the students of 1833 thought neither of founding a big organization nor of participating in a widespread campaign against misery. They wished to help one another to remain faithful to their baptismal promises and to carry out supported by their mutual friendship, one of the essential duties of the Christian life.

These modest ideas were quite in keeping with the tradition of St. Vincent de Paul who the little conference chose as their patron at an early stage. St. Vincent who accomplished such great things, never proclaimed high ambitions. His most astonishing creations began in small waves and their growth was the result of time and necessity. So it was with the Society which bears his name.

It was born at an opportune time. With objects and methods exclusively religious, interests entirely social and completely sundered from old-time political parties, its program harmonized with the ideals of a large section of Catholic youth.

So the Conference developed very rapidly. The founders were surprised and even a little troubled. What was going to become of the intimacy of their meetings? Ozanam, alone, appears to have understood the possibilities of the apostolate which success brought into being.
